RASCH News

---

Dear Sirs,

We would like to check whether you currently are interested in an inspection of your machines or other technical services such as change overs etc. If so, please contact our sales team. As our service capacities are currently often fully booked, we recommend reserving capacities early. We look forward to reading your news with interest.

In the meantime, we have noticed a continuous increase in customers' demand regarding tempering rework masses with ingredients. Our TR machines are ideal partners for this type of application. Our solution gives you the possibility to re-temper the entire masses without having to sieve out ingredients. As prices for raw materials are constantly rising, this also is very beneficial regarding a sustainably handling of raw materials. This, certainly, is a real gain for your production processes. We are happy to present our technology either in person or via video call and hear from you what your focus is regarding capacities and technical design and setup of the tempering units.

We currently have very interesting used machines for sale. If you are looking for a packaging solution that is available quickly, please contact our sales team - we may have the right machine for you.

For any other questions around our product portfolio just let us know anytime. We wish you a successful week.

Very best regards,

Your Rasch-Team
